

Bourgogne Aligoté

Aligoté

Much less famous than Chardonnay, Aligoté is a grape variety that has seen a resurgence of interest in recent years. Indeed, its natural acidity and minerality are now sought to counter the effects of global warming, which can produce white wines too heavy and opulent.

Technical sheet :

Age : 35 years old

Terroirs : argilo-calcareous

Exposure : west

Altitude : 350 mètres

Vinification and maturation : 30% new barrels + stainless tanks during 9-12 months